FIFTH EDITION OF THE McCORD MUSEUM URBAN FOREST Free activities and performances offered throughout the summer season

Montreal, June 1, 2015 – Until September 27, 2015, the McCord Museum's Urban Forest, on Victoria Street between Sherbrooke West and Président-Kennedy, will once again offer a whole host of activities. For its fifth edition, food trucks along with free musical and swing dance performances will all enhance the ambiance in this outdoor space, which this year will be awash in shades of blue and pink, created by designers Paula Meijerink and Thierry Beaudoin of WANTED landscape. A piano for passing pianists (gift of Piano Leblond) and picnic tables for the lunchtime crowd will also be available during the entire summer season. It all adds up to a peaceful and entertaining haven in the heart of downtown Montreal.

Regular program – Noon in the Forest
