

PRESS RELEASE

McCord Museum and IÖGO nanö, an Agropur brand, Partner to Preserve a Montreal Holiday Tradition!

The Mechanical Christmas Displays from Ogilvy's Department Store, Presented for First Time at the McCord Museum

Montreal, November 13, 2018 – Until January 6, 2019, the McCord Museum is presenting for the first time Enchanted Worlds, an event involving the two mechanical Christmas displays from Ogilvy's department store. Holt Renfrew handed over The Mill in the Forest and The Enchanted Village to the Museum in early 2018 with a view to protecting, preserving and maintaining this iconic Montreal holiday tradition that has livened up the winter landscape for over seventy years.

Tradition continues at McCord thanks to IÖGO nanö, an Agropur brand

Montrealers have been spellbound by the mechanical displays in Ogilvy's department store window every Christmastime since 1947. The Bavarian scenes, custom made by the German toy manufacturer Steiff, feature dozens of handcrafted animals working and playing.

Thanks to a partnership with IÖGO nanö (Agropur), the Museum is proud to carry on the tradition this winter by presenting The Mill in the Forest outdoors, to the great delight of passers-by on Sherbrooke Street! The second window, The Enchanted Village, can be seen on Level 2 of the Museum.

Similar to those of department stores in other parts of the world, like Macy's in New York or the Galeries Lafayette in Paris, these window displays are among the last of their kind in North America. "The Ogilvy's displays are part of Montreal history. We hope they'll continue to delight thousands of Montreal families," said Suzanne Sauvage, President and Chief Executive Officer of the McCord Museum.

"As a museum with strong family values, we're extremely pleased and proud to offer Montrealers a gift of historic importance and unparalleled sentimental value. Through their association with the McCord Museum, IÖGO nanö and Agropur wish to share a magical holiday moment with Montrealers, by upholding a tradition that has long been part of and will long continue to be part of Montreal life," said Robert Coallier, Chief Executive Officer of Agropur.

Adopt an animal and carry on the tradition!

To preserve this Montreal holiday tradition, the McCord Museum Foundation is launching its Adopt an Animal! campaign today. The campaign is a lot of fun. It offers a chance to symbolically adopt animals from the Enchanted Worlds. In all, there will be 141 lots of animals available for five-year adoption, ranging in price from $50 to $500. (Prices depend on the size and number of the animals in the lot.) In addition to a tax receipt, adoptive parents will receive a certificate featuring a photograph of their animal on which to write the name of their choosing. They can also send the name in for inclusion on the McCord Museum Web site.

What's more, for every animal adopted, IÖGO nanö (Agropur) will make a matching donation. The campaign will potentially raise $50,000. It's a wonderful opportunity to give an original gift of historic importance and unparalleled sentimental value.
