THE McCORD MUSEUM PROMISES A WEEK RICH WITH DISCOVERIES FOR ITS SPRING BREAK!

Treasure hunts, Story Hour, fanzine workshops, and video games on the program

Montreal, February 11, 2016 – From Sunday, February 28, to Sunday, March 6, 2016, the McCord Museum will not take a break! For this school holiday week, the Museum will offer a program filled with entertaining activities. Families are invited to go on treasure hunts, attend Story Hour, make fanzines in a creative workshop and take part in special events featuring retro video games. These activities, free for children 12 and under, will be held in both French and English and are sure to please the whole family.

“Our varied, fun-filled program will enable parents and children to share wonderful moments together and to explore our history in a new light. The McCord Museum will inarguably be the best place to come have fun during spring break!” declared Suzanne Sauvage, President and Chief Executive Officer of the McCord Museum.

Time for the Montréal joue festival

From Wednesday, March 2, to Saturday, March 5, 2016, the McCord Museum will host the Montréal joue festival, the largest festival of games in Montreal, organized by Bibliothèques de Montréal. The Museum welcomes the public to join in the many activities offered:

- From Wednesday, March 2, to Saturday, March 5, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. (continuously): Young and old alike are invited to come play with retro games, which are sure to dazzle the children and rekindle sweet childhood memories for their parents;
- Wednesday, March 2, as of 6 p.m. (continuously): Throughout the evening, visitors will discover or rediscover retro board games. A board game historian will test the public’s knowledge, and participants are encouraged to bring their own vintage games!
- Wednesday, March 2, from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. (continuously) and Saturday, March 5, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. (continuously): Visitors are invited to try out retro video games, such as Atari, NES and Commodore.

The Museum is the place for adventure!

For some years, the McCord Museum has also offered families The Adventure at the Museum, an annual program of diverse, free activities presented by Hydro-Québec and in collaboration with Motherforlife.com. The Adventure at the Museum offers families a fantastic journey through the very heart of the Museum. On arrival, each family receives a backpack containing everything they’ll need to explore many current exhibitions from a child’s perspective!

Mister Rabbit’s Circus Until April 17, 2016

A made-to-measure mystery for children aged 3 to 9

Children will not want to miss Mr. Rabbit’s Circus during spring break. Featured at the Museum until April 17, 2016, this exhibition offers a circuit that takes children on a quest to solve a mystery. For its 6th annual exhibition of toys, the Museum is partnering with éditions Les 400 coups – on the occasion of the publishing house’s 20th anniversary – and with the popular Monsieur Lapin series of books by author Pascal Héroult and illustrator Geneviève Després. Mister Rabbit invites all of his friends to attend a circus performance, but on the evening of the big premiere some of the circus props are missing and must be found in time for the show! Mister Rabbit leads an investigation to unmask the culprits. Why and how did the items disappear? Financial support for this program is provided by Tourisme Montréal.

Always available

Circuit suggested for children aged 6 and up

During spring break, it will also be possible to explore the exhibition Wearing our Identity – The First Peoples Collection via a second circuit that invites families to come to the aid of Thomas, an engaging boy searching for his identity. This circuit enables visitors to admire a wide array of artefacts while learning about the complex heritage of First Peoples through their clothing.

Audio game on iPad for the Montreal – Points of View exhibition

Suggested for children aged 10 and up

An audio game for iPad is available as part of the permanent exhibition Montreal – Points of View. A first in this field, the game offers a new way to visit the city during different historical periods. The game was designed by the McCord Museum through a financial contribution from the Telus Community Board.

Tell me a story

Story Hour for children aged 3 to 9

Every day, at 11:15 a.m., 1:15 p.m. and 3:15 p.m. (in French), as well as at 11:45 a.m., 1:45 p.m. and 3:45 p.m. (in English), it's time for Story Hour with the adventures of Mister Rabbit!

Creating as a family

Workshop for children aged 3 to 9 accompanied by their parents

Inspired by the theme of the Mister Rabbit's Circus exhibition, a collage and drawing workshop to create fanzines (artisanal magazines) will be offered to families. This workshop will take place every day, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. (continuously).

Special Easter Program

Sunday, March 27, 2016, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Mr. Rabbit is transforming himself into the Easter Bunny for a day! He has a plan to surprise and entertain his friends by hiding 10 colourful eggs here and there in his circus. Where could they be? Families are invited to find out by making their way through Mr. Rabbit's Circus and hunting for the hidden eggs!
